Ballymoney Borough Council – 16 July 2007

In attendance: Alderman Frank Campbell
Alderman Harry Connolly
Alderman James Simpson
Councillor Anita Cavlan
Councillor Malachy McCamphill
Councillor Philip McGuigan
Councillor Evelyne L Robinson
Councillor Mervyn Storey MLA
Councillor Roy Wilson

Iris McCleery (Director of Central and Leisure Services)

1. Current process – planning applications where a deferral is requested

Context / General

Planning Service consultation with Councils

- What is the legal basis for this?
- Perception that Planning Service could not consult with Councils if they wished
- What is the role of Planning Service consultation?
 - o Purpose to get Council's views on applications
 - o Ensure that applications are consistent with policies (PPSs, Area Plans, etc)
- Councillors' role
 - o Council as a corporate body is a consultee in the planning process
 - o Should adopt same role as EHS, Roads Service, etc, as a statutory consultee
 - o Role is to ensure that all policies are fully explored in relation to specific applications before a decision is reached
 - o Should not be as an advocate for individual applicants – this is the role of architect / planning agent; however some Councillors do act as advocates of applicants; may effectively do some of the work of architects
 - o One Councillor expressed the view that particularly in the case of rural developers, Councillors should not be advocates for the applicant – linked to PPS14, speculative development and 'abuse' of the planning system
 - o Councillors are not given the respect due to them under the current system
 - o Councillors have a right / duty to represent constituents whether applicant or objector
 - o If client pays for planning application, they are entitled to representation – need to ensure value for money to applicant

Neighbour notification

- Require consultation within 90m of proposed development
- Is there a statutory requirement to consult all those within this area?

+Different issues for rural and urban cases

- Urban areas:
 - o site meetings rarely arise
 - o occasionally there are objectors
 - o there is a weakness in the planning system: no legislative role for 3rd party objectors (although this exists in other parts of the UK)
 - o Not all Councillors are in favour of third party appeals: this would increase delays in decision making
- Rural areas:
 - o Main issue is PPS14

Planning Agents

- Some agents are poor
 - o submit applications that are unlikely to be approved
 - o know they will get their fee
 - o encourage applicants to approach Councillors / 'using' Councillors
 - o the buck stops with them: have to 'mop up' when there is a problem difficulty
 - o more information / better communication could resolve this earlier, particularly if Councillor knows the applicant
- Some agents are better
 - o tell applicants realistic chances (even if the likelihood is refusal)

Planning Service workload and resources

- Rationale for change in procedures was to reduce workload for planners – not necessarily

- to produce the 'best' result
- Planning Service decision-making process very slow
- Fewer applications being dealt with now yet waiting time for a decision is more than 6 months
- Aware that a lot of Planning Service time spent on appeals
- Due to get more staff in Coleraine

Other agencies:

- EHS: poor decisions with regard to countryside / wetland
- Inconsistency in Roads Service)

Use of 14-day period when schedule issued prior to Council meeting

Councillors do not necessarily see schedule (decisions) 14-days prior to Council meeting
 Schedule of new applications appears on Planning Service website 7 days before Council meeting

Once schedule received, Councillors look for refusals (in their area) and contact applicants or applicants may approach Councillors

Have to travel to Coleraine Planning Office to see files, if wish to do this

Planning 'clinic' /Pre meeting prior to Council meeting

Planning Service did pilot a clinic

Came to Ballymoney for 0.5 day every week but this did not work / limited use

Sent a junior planner who could only deal with relatively straightforward/ basic queries

Requesting a deferral

Information brought to Council meeting by Planning Service is minimal

Approvals are rarely discussed in planning meetings

Deferrals are formally requested in Council meeting by individual Councillor, generally other members support this

- Rural Councillors have local knowledge of areas and sites: can put forward arguments that meet Planning Service needs
- If request deferral on the basis of additional information, bring this to the office meeting
- Moving now to situation where deferrals are on approvals / deferral sought by objectors

Deferrals granted at discretion of planning officer; generally these are allowed

Few office meetings / no site meetings in Ballymoney

Use of five criteria (valid planning reasons)

Have to use the criteria.

Mostly use Criteria 5

Deferrals: Office meetings

Organised by Council in conjunction with planners (Planning Service make up schedule)

Council invites all Councillors / planning agents / applicants / objectors

Planning Service send case officer

Meetings held in Council premises; normally all held on the same day

A lot of office meetings relate to reserved matters; relatively few new applications

Time spent by Council dealing with deferred planning applications

Decreased owing to fewer site meetings

But this has more to do with new planning policies than new system for deferrals

Volume of Deferrals

Previously: in some cases > 100 applications on the monthly schedule; typically 60-70
July 2007: 52 applications; many are reserved matters; 8 are refusals
Generally get all office meetings that are requested

Outcome of Deferrals

% of decision overturned is 40%; sometimes greater
Planning Service statistics: 52% overturned

Management Board Referrals

MBRs free whereas there is a fee associated with appeal
50% success rate

Appeals largely related to Outline Planning Permission, rural areas, pre-PPS14; greater success rate on these

2. Changes in Deferral Process (compared to pre-October 2005)

Request for deferrals

Previously: All requests for deferrals were granted
Site meetings were automatically granted, if requested.

Organisation of site / office meetings

Organised by individual Councillors in liaison with planners

Site meetings (previously)

Attended by applicant / agent planner and Councillor
Looked at specific requirements of application

Now no longer get site meetings and some Councillors rarely attend office meetings

Loss of site meetings is an issue: office meetings do not afford same opportunities: looking at maps, cannot appreciate all of the issues

Previously: some office meetings; opportunity for site meetings; option for office meeting after site meeting; in some cases could have had 2 site meetings and then meeting involving MP / MLA

Outcome of site meetings

Better results from site meetings than office meetings: overturn planning decision to the benefit of applicant

Perception: prior to October 2005 (changes in procedures) estimate that many more (how many?) cases were overturned

Impact that the change in deferral process had on:

i) Time spent by Councillors on planning applications

Decrease Same Increase

Decreased owing to fewer site meetings

But this has more to do with new planning policies than new system for deferrals

On the other hand, the nature of applications is changing:

- e.g. development of apartments / townhouses, etc
- Not straightforward
- Each case may take up more time

ii) Time spent by Council Officers on planning applications

Decrease Same Increase

iii) Speed of decision making for the applicants

Slower Same Faster

Not related specifically to deferral process:

Planning Service decision-making process very slow

- Fewer applications being dealt with now yet waiting time for decision is > 6 months
- Aware that a lot of Planning Service time spent on appeals
- Due to get more staff in Coleraine

iv) Quality of Planning Service decisions

Poorer Same Better

v) % of deferrals that lead to Planning Service changing its original decision

Decrease Same Increase

Perception: prior to October 2005 (changes in procedures) – sample information provided in Bearingpoint information questionnaire.

3. Council perception of the Planning Service's performance

a) Planning Service responsiveness to requests for information?

- 1 consistently miss targets for responding
- 2
- 3 miss some targets , but meet others
- 5 consistently meet response time targets set with the quality/quantity of information needed

Lack of service / poor service is a problem

- Difficulty in contacting case officer
- Cannot contact at all on Wednesdays
- Leave messages
- Calls are not returned / generally poor at responding
- Quicker response from case officers by e-mail
- Depends on individual: variable experience
- As a public body /publicly funded service – should be accessible

As elected representatives, should have greater priority, and even a direct line number But Council has no authority over Planning Service

b) Planning Service ability to take decisions in line with policy?

- 1 Planning Service do not appear to be implementing policy
- 2
- 3 sometimes they do and sometimes they don't implement it accurately
- 5 they implement the policy, even though on occasions it is the policy we would disagree with

Policy is not an exact science

Inconsistency in individual Planning Officers e.g. may stick to policy at one meeting, but vary it at the next meeting

c) Planning Service transparency about how they have made the decision?

- 1 v poor/ not clear at all how the decision was arrived at
- 3 parts of the decision clear/others are unclear

5 it is clear why the decision has been reached, even if Council doesn't agree with the decision

Lack of information about how decision is reached

'Arbitrary' decision comes to Council: don't understand how it has been arrived at

Information on file could be improved e.g.:

- Councils don't see EHS response; this should be on Planning Service file, but Council has to request it from EHS office
- Retrospective planning application: not noted on file

d) Your Council's confidence in the planning system?

1 not at all confident in the planning system

3 neither / nor

5 total confidence in planning system

e) The extent to which your Council has the ability to influence the Planning decisions (and thus improve the quality of decision-making) in your local council area?

1 v little ability to influence local Planning decisions

3 some ability to influence local Planning decisions

5 significant ability to influence local Planning decisions

Had greater influence in the past: only way to influence planning decisions is through site meetings

Planning Service does not respect Councillors with regard to their potential influence in changing planning decisions

Councillors feel that their role has been diminished to provide input to office meetings only

Difficult to get office meetings when decision is approval: Planning Officer does not understand why office meetings are requested when the decision is approval

4. Planning Service consistency across NI

a) How important do you feel that it is that people across NI receive the same service from Planning Service and Council regarding Planning?

1 not at all important

3 Neither / Nor

5 Very important

There should be consistent policy across all 26 Council areas

b) What experience/ knowledge do you have of how other councils in NI work with the Planning Service?

Travel with colleagues in other boroughs

Sense that there is no consistency in how planning policies are applied across all areas

Within Coleraine Division, there are inconsistencies e.g.:

- Ballymoney could get site meetings when others could not
- Coleraine (Council) difficulty in getting any office meetings

At last planning meeting, several examples were quoted from Coleraine Borough; but planner's response was that there was a different approach in Coleraine

Aware that Omagh could not get office meetings

c) How would you rate the level of consistency across Council areas in NI with regard to the Planning Service Council consultation process (and hence decisions made)?

- 1 Wide variety of consultation processes used in all Councils (not at all consistent)
- 2
- 3 Consultation processes have some common elements, but also local differences
- 5 Same consultation processes used in all Councils (consistent)

Wide degree of variation/inconsistency within the Planning Service across Councils areas and within Council area:

One local example:

- House built/ should not have been
- Applied/ refused twice
- Applied under different name / approved
- Where is the enforcement?

Planning Service said they would bring all into line; but this has not happened

Brings into question the issue of legal / statutory requirement to consult

Council feels that they have no direct say in consultation process, however, planners need to take Council views on board

d) Thinking about the level of consistency in the Planning Service, has this changed in any way as a result of the Revised Council Consultation Procedures i.e.:?

Less Consistent Same More Consistent

5. Planning Service resource

A lot of staff turnover in Planning Service; a lot going into the private sector

Leads to situation where there are more younger, less experienced staff in the Service

When staff move on, it is not clear where their casework goes

No evidence of positive impact of revised guidelines in terms of Planning Service resources being freed up to tackle other areas / improve Planning Service performance.

6. Summary: Maintaining Current Council Consultation Procedure

Perceived Benefits
(financial / non financial)

Perceived Costs
(financial / non financial)

What are the benefits to you / your constituents of keeping the existing procedure? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Free up some time for Councillors – but constituents are less content • In theory should free up time for Planning Service staff – but no evidence of this and their time is being used for other things e.g. appeals 	What are the cost implications of keeping the existing procedure? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Loss of site meetings. Currently limited in what can be done / achieved through office meetings. (Reasons for refusal can relate to e.g.: build up, integration, etc. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - From map, cannot see hedges, visibility of neighbouring properties, etc. - At site meeting, issues much clearer)

Improvement opportunities: if the current Procedure is maintained

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Councils should be involved earlier in the process <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ earlier consultation (prior to decision) ○ information that accrues after decision made has the potential to change it • Opportunity for consultation prior to application e.g. pre-submission meeting with planners <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Would need senior planner to be involved ○ Would give a fee to Planning Service; maybe not pay architect fee at this stage • Address quality of applications submitted by planning agents <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Planning Service need to put more pressure on agents to ensure applications are of an acceptable level ○ Architects/ planning agents have to take some responsibility: in some cases advise applicants that sites will be approved when this is unlikely • In the case of refusals where a deferral is sought, the onus should be on the architect / agent to provide sufficient / adequate information to secure a deferral • Site meeting facility should be reinstated • Information management / communication needs to be improved: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Need to ensure information added into the system in a way that it can be dealt with ○ Example: information requested by Planning Service in August 2006 and assurance that if it was provided within 6 weeks a decision would be issued. Information has been provided and decision has not yet been issued. • Need for Planning Service to make better linkages/ connection with Council's Environmental Health department <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Example: change of use applications where EHO concerns regarding provision of space for segregated waste i.e. there may not be enough thought being put into provision of communal space for bins etc/ need to link with Waste Strategy ○ Example of development on a private road with 17 dwellings: this would mean up to 34 bins all at one corner (owing to Council waste collection service) ○ Planning Service not open to this
